Ages 4-5	Once Upon a Time When we hear the words 'Once upon a time', we know we are about to be taken on an exciting adventure. Now, we're going to discover some new stories! Shall we begin? 'Once upon a time...'	This Is Me We learn and play together, supporting one another as we explore and experience new things every day. Together, we are going to be learning about ourselves and each other and celebrating what we have learned with our families.
	The Stories People Tell Many of the stories that we enjoy today are influenced by the stories that have been passed down through the ages. By studying older stories, we can perform our own stories to entertain people today.	Our World Our world is where we live. It is the places that we go, the people that we meet, the things that we can see, smell, hear, taste and touch. We need to treat our world with respect, so that every person, animal and plant can live healthily and enjoy it.
Ages 6-7	They Made A Difference Some people have made such a big difference in the world that their influence on our lives can still be felt today. From scientists to sports people, from politicians to musicians, there are people whose ideas or achievements have singled them out from others.	The Nature of Life From frogspawn to frogs, from caterpillars to butterflies and from seeds to plants, all living things grow and change, feed and reproduce. But how does life begin for living things and what effect does the environment have?.
	Express Yourself Our feelings are complicated and changing. Sometimes we feel like we are 'on top of the world' but at other times we feel sad without really understanding why. We are going to find out why we have different feelings and whether animals have feelings too.	The Great, The Bold And The Brave The history of western civilisation begins with the Greeks and the Romans. As their empires ended, other cultures rose to prominence, absorbing and passing on their own ideas and cultures – creating the world we know today.
